CONSTELLATION NEWENERGY

Constellation NewEnergy (CNE) is a leading U.S. competitive energy supplier that serves business customers from Main Street to two-thirds of the Fortune 100. Our commercial, industrial and public-sector customers, which represented over 14,000 megawatts of peak electric load in 2008, depend on our expertise to help them make smart energy buying decisions for their business. We are a wholly owned subsidiary of Constellation Energy, a Fortune 500 integrated energy company with more than $22 billion in assets.

CNE is recognized as an industry leader in all competitive electricity markets in the United States. We serve competitive electric supply to customers in 16 states as well as Washington, D.C., providing local service, regional expertise and personal attention through our power business' regional offices. Together with Constellation NewEnergy Gas, Constellation Energy's pioneering gas supply and transportation subsidiary, we generated nearly $10 billion in revenue from combined electricity and gas businesses in 2008.

SERVING COMPETITIVE ENERGY MARKETS THROUGHOUT THE UNITED STATES

Our offices are strategically located to serve customers in every U.S. competitive electricity market. Each office is staffed with energy experts who combine extensive expertise in your local market with our vision to be your first-choice competitive energy supplier wherever you are.

OUR VALUE TO CUSTOMERS

Given changes in the electricity industry, we continue to see unprecedented opportunities for any business to effectively manage energy as a strategic asset. By offering scalable products, competitive pricing and industry-leading resources, we help businesses throughout the U.S. maximize the value of their energy investment.
