CONWAY CORPORATION

Conway, Arkansas—one of the state’s fastest-growing cities, with 58,000 residents and a thriving business community—relies on Constellation Energy to keep its power flowing efficiently and reliably—no matter what. One of the nation’s leading suppliers of energy and energy-related products and services to wholesale and retail customers, Constellation works hand-in-hand with the city’s utility provider, Conway Corporation, to integrate power generation and supply, track and analyze grid activity, and reconcile supply and load variations in real time. Now that’s a powerful partnership. How can Constellation make energy work for you?
