

Shane Smith

Vice President, Finance, Constellation

Profile

As vice president of Finance for Constellation, Smith oversees the company's wholesale and retail business segments, financial forecasting, project analysis, performance indicators and financial reporting.

Professional History

Before assuming the role of vice president of Finance, Smith spent five years within Exelon Generation Strategy, most recently serving as managing director, GenCo Strategic Development. In that position, Smith was responsible for both short-term and long-term strategic development across Exelon Generation, with a focus on growing the Constellation business and improving valuation of Exelon Generation.

Previously, Smith served as assistant treasurer, Corporate and Project Finance, where among his many responsibilities, he oversaw all capital market activity, including long-term capital financing across the Exelon operating companies. Smith joined Constellation in 2006 and has taken on roles of increasing scope and organizational impact ultimately serving as BGE's director of treasury before moving to Exelon in 2012.

Civic Involvement

Smith serves on the Board of Trustees and heads the finance committee for The SEED School of Maryland, a statewide, college-preparatory public boarding school.

Education

Smith received his bachelor's degree with a dual concentration in Finance and Marketing from Boston College and his MBA from the University of Maryland.

Family

Shane lives in Lutherville, Md., with his wife and three daughters.